Paper Mogul Gannett Dies In Rochester

Famed Publisher Active In GOP, Once A Democrat

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Frank E. Gannett, who built a $3,000 stake into a newspaper empire, died today at 5 a.m. EST. He was 81.

The publisher had been under medical care since April 1955, when he suffered a fracture of a vertebra in a fall down stairs at his home.

Gannett retired last April as president of the Gannett Co., Inc., and became a resident emeritus. The company controls and operates 22 newspapers, 4 radio stations and 3 television stations. Most of the Gannett newspapers are in New York state.

Two thirds of the common stock of the Gannett Co., representing voting control, is held by the Frank E. Gannett Newspaper Foundation, Inc. It is enjoined to continue publishing the newspapers and to have community service as its paramount objective.

Gannett is survived by his wife, the former Caroline Werner; a daughter, Mrs. Charles V. McAdam Jr., Greenwich, Conn.; an adopted son, Dixon, Dearborn, Mich.; and six grandchildren.

Gannett's chief interests besides newspapering were politics, government, aviation, agriculture, public recreation facilities, education and youth.

A Democrat early in life, he became a Republican in 1918 but for many years classed himself as an independent.

He was a candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1940. He received 33 votes at the convention in Philadelphia. Wendell Willkie was nominated. In 1942, Gannett served as assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Gannett started from scratch. He was born Sept. 15, 1876, on a farm about 6 miles southeast of Rochester.

No Appeal Scheduled Girard, Wife Ready For Return To U. S.

CAMP DREW, Japan.—(AP)—William S. Girard and his Japanese wife Candy began final preparations today for their trip to the United States after Japan decided not to appeal the three-year suspended sentence a Japanese court gave the Illinois soldier.

Maebashi Prosecutor Kaname Watanabe announced the state would not seek a stiffer penalty for the fatal shooting on a firing range last Jan. 30 of Mrs. Naka Sakai, a Japanese scrap scavenger.

Watanabe and the supreme prosecutor's office in Tokyo said they did not think they could obtain a more severe penalty in a higher court. U.S.-Japanese relations, strained during parts of the celebrated case, were also considered in deciding against an appeal. Supreme Prosecutor Tadashi Hanai indicated.

Nejiro Asanuma, secretary general of the opposition Socialist party, said the decision was "absolutely deplorable" and "because of outside pressure... we will take it up at the next Diet (Parliament) session."

Socialist pressure played the biggest part in forcing the government to demand Girard's trial in a Japanese court rather than by Army court-martial.

Girard, a 22-year-old specialist third class from Ottawa, Ill., told newsmen with a smile the decision made him "feel good." It leaves him free to return home for discharge soon. A four-year probationary period set by the court when he was sentenced Nov. 19 will not apply outside Japan.

Hary (Candy) Girard, whom the GI married last summer, said she had been notified they would sail from Yokohama Friday. She planned to get an immigrant visa for the United States stamped in her Japanese passport tomorrow. The U.S. Embassy in Tokyo said her papers are in order for immigration to America.

Beck Resigns Builder Post

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Outgoing Teamsters President Dave Beck is stepping down as a vice president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department.

Beck's resignation was contained in a letter dated Nov. 27 and read yesterday by the department, Richard J. Gray, at the group's 49th regular convention.

Beck said he was resigning because of his decision not to run for re-election as Teamsters president. There are 10 vice presidents of the 19-union department.

Skin Specialist Aims New Method Of Treating Scars

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Development of a new method for treating pitted scars resulting from smallpox, pimples and certain other conditions was reported today by a Harvard skin specialist.

Dr. Arthur S. Spangler described the technique in a scientific exhibit prepared for the opening of the 11th clinical meeting of the American Medical Assn.

Spangler, of Massachusetts General and Peter Bent Brigham hospitals, said his treatment involves anesthetizing the area and then cutting the fibrous strands beneath each scar with a small, two-edged knife. The knife is inserted through the hole made by the needle used to inject the pain-killer.

Finally, into the space so created beneath the scar, he injects a substance called "fibrin foam"—an extract of human blood.

The fibrin foam raises the bottom of the scar to the level of the rest of the skin, he said, adding that within several months the fibrin foam is absorbed by the body tissue and replaced by normal tissue.

House Leaders See No Tax Slash

Rayburn, Martin Agree Cut Next Year Appears Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders agreed today their hope for tax cuts next year is virtually dead.

Not one of a group interviewed on the subject saw any chance for lowering of the tax burden which many of them thought earlier this year might be eased in 1958.

"I don't think it looks very favorable for a significant reduction," said House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.).

"I don't think there's much chance to cut taxes," said Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, House Republican leader.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee wouldn't comment on the prospects pending the start of hearings by his committee next month on general tax revision.

But Rep. Mills (D-Ark), second-ranking committee member, told the American Tax Foundation at a New York meeting that prospects for tax cuts were dim, although some adjustments might be in order.

The senior Republican on Cooper's committee, Rep. Reed of New York, said he would press for tax relief "just the minute" it appears possible. But he added that there would have to be a surplus of from two to three billion dollars in the Treasury before anything other than an infinitesimal cut could be made.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mn.) of the House Appropriations Committee agreed with most others that heavy defense spending next year would rule out tax cuts, and commented: "Heavy taxes are what is balancing the budget now. You can't keep the budget balanced if you reduce taxes."

Both Rayburn and Martin said they would support the appropriation of every dollar necessary to keep up national defense and security and to overcome what Rayburn called the "humiliation" inflicted on the United States by Russia in the field of science.

Dag Presses Peace Quest In Mideast

Reaches Jerusalem After Session With Officials In Jordan

JERUSALEM (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold arrived in Jerusalem today on the second leg of a Middle East peace mission that apparently made little headway in Jordan.

A Jordanian spokesman said Hammarskjold might return to Amman after his talks with Israeli leaders.

That was taken as evidence that the secretary general had found Jordan's leaders adamant in their demand for U.N. inspection of Israeli-held Mt. Scopus and their refusal to let Israeli convoys take gasoline to the hill.

Goes To Neutral Area

Immediately after arriving by plane from Amman, Hammarskjold went to the U.N. truce headquarters in neutral territory between Jordan and Israel for a talk with U.S. Marine Col. Byron W. Leary, acting chief of the U.N. team.

Later today he was to confer with Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

A joint U.N.-Jordan communique issued after two days of meetings between Hammarskjold and leaders in Amman indicated that the talks had fallen short of U.N. expectations. The secretary general looked grim as he left the final conference.

Three issues are central in the latest Israel-Jordan tension: (1) Jordan's refusal to allow an Israeli convoy bearing 490 gallons of gasoline to pass through its territory to Mt. Scopus, in old Jerusalem; (2) Jordan's rejection of Col. Leary as a U.N. mediator; and (3) charges from Jordan and Israel that each is building fortifications in the demilitarized zone in violation of the 1949 armistice.

The communique issued in Amman mentioned the convoy dispute and said the Jordanians' views "having been fully clarified, the secretary general will now undertake further steps to resolve the problem."

Name Not Mentioned

Leary's name was not mentioned, but the statement said the talks covered the work of the U.N. truce supervisory organization, which he currently directs. The Jordanians have accused him of being pro-Israeli, but Hammarskjold has expressed his confidence in him.

Israeli officials said the Cabinet had empowered Premier David Ben-Gurion to insist that Israel has the right to include gasoline in supplies sent to Mt. Scopus. The officials indicated Ben-Gurion also will press charges that Jordan for a decade has violated truce provisions by building fortifications in the demilitarized area around Mt. Scopus.

U. S. Support For Stopping Revolt Urged

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Asian-Arab pressure increased today to get U.S. support for negotiations aimed at ending Algeria's three-year-old rebellion against French rule.

Behind scenes maneuvers by both sides in the dispute were stepped up as the General Assembly's top Political Committee prepared to continue the Algerian debate today.

Uncertainty about the stand the United States would take was reported holding up an Arab-Asian move to call on France and the Algerian nationalists to negotiate their differences.

A high Eastern diplomat indicated that the 22 Arab-Asian nations who brought the Algerian issue before the Assembly again this year were hesitant about spelling out their demands in a resolution until they are sure what support they would get.

Ceylonese Delegate R. S. S. Gunewardene pointed up the move for Western intervention during yesterday's committee debate. He called on the United States and Britain to use their good offices to bring about a solution of the dispute.

Gunewardene also urged France to reverse herself by accepting the Tunisian-Moroccan offer to mediate the conflict on the basis of sovereignty for Algeria and safeguards for French rights.

Union Chiefs Oppose Gray Pay Proposal

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Labor union chiefs looked with general disfavor today on a proposal from one of their colleagues that unions help combat inflation by foregoing 1958 wage boosts.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, sent word through aides that he will personally scotch the idea in a speech to one of the several union groups meeting in advance of the AFL-CIO convention.

Other federation leaders generally disagreed with the plan put forward by President Richard J. Gray of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, claiming some 3 1/2 million of the 15 million AFL-CIO members.

Gray, in a speech to his building trades group yesterday, called for loosened government credit policies to aid financing of all types of construction and suggested the wage moratorium to counter inflation. He said his plan would create more construction jobs.

But other AFL-CIO leaders were quick to hark back to the AFL-CIO's economic thesis that a high wage policy is good for the country by creating mass purchasing power to buy up production. Meany was expected to stress this.

In Detroit, Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and AFL-CIO vice president, said he would not comment on the suggestion until he saw the text of Gray's remarks.

Plans Pushed In Launching U. S. Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Engineers worked at top speed today to prepare America's first space satellite for launching at dawn tomorrow or soon thereafter.

They apparently remedied one last-minute problem, the malfunctioning of ground support equipment designed to cool some of the fuel before it was pumped into the rocket. A valve was replaced.

They also labored to eliminate noise interference in the crucial second stage of the three-stage vehicle which will attempt to place a 6 1/2-inch ball into an orbit 300 to 1,200 miles above the earth.

If it is not eliminated, this difficulty could make the 72-foot-tall rocket wobble in flight and cause it to break up.

The experts were optimistic that they would have this trouble worked out.

Charles E. Bartley of Redlands, Calif., president of Grand Central Rocket Co., told a reporter: "Our rockets already have gone higher than any others. We hope that this week we can claim a second record."

Snow or snow flurries fell in areas from the eastern Dakotas to New England. One of the heaviest falls during the night, about 3 inches, was reported at Aberdeen, S.D.

Snow flurries extended across the northern Great Lakes region, in eastern New York state and in New England. Hazardous driving conditions were indicated in parts of New York state adjacent to Lakes Erie and Ontario, where heavy squalls were reported last night.

Eisenhower Talks With Party Heads

Defense Problems Aired At Session, Group Applauds Ike

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said after a White House conference today that President Eisenhower wants him to attend the NATO summit conference in Paris.

The 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate said he probably will not make a decision for another week or 10 days, pending completion of his work with Secretary of State Dulles on preparations for the meeting.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower met with congressional leaders today to go over plans for solving the problems of national defense and foreign policy made critical by Russian scientific advances.

The recuperating President got a warm round of applause from key men of both parties as he appeared in the Cabinet room to take the chair for the briefing session.

Half an hour earlier Eisenhower received from his physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, another report of continuing excellent progress in his recovery from the mild stroke which he suffered a week ago yesterday.

President Arrives Early

Eisenhower was in his office nearly an hour ahead of the congressional conference. Press secretary James C. Hagerly said he was there giving a final check to matters to be brought up at the session.

Just before the briefing itself got under way, Eisenhower had a 10-minute talk with Adlai Stevenson, the Democrat whom Eisenhower twice defeated for the presidency. Eisenhower called in Stevenson as a consultant on America's program to be presented at the North Atlantic Alliance meeting opening in Paris Dec. 16.

Stevenson, invited to the session with the congressional leaders, was accompanied to the White House by Secretary of State Dulles. The secretary sat in on the talk with Eisenhower.

Ryan Vertiplane Rivals Copter In California Test

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A VTOL (vertical takeoff and landing) airplane looking like a bird with a turned-up nose and its wing tips broken was unveiled yesterday by Ryan Aeronautical Co.

Ryan said the vertiplane rivals the helicopter in rising, landing and hovering yet "will far exceed rotary-wing aircraft in speed and range capability."

The bent wing tips provide structural support for the large flaps on the wings that can be extended far below the wing tips.

Mother, 90, Two Daughters Starve In Relative Wealth

CHICAGO (AP)—A story of how a 90-year-old mother and her two daughters starved amid relative wealth was disclosed in Probate Court yesterday.

The court proceedings disclosed, too, that the mother, Mrs. Hattie Rice, had been held captive by one of her daughters, Dorothy, 60, in a suburban Oak Park eight-family apartment building which the Rices owned.

It was disclosed at proceedings to name a conservator for the estate of Mrs. Rice that on Nov. 18 police went to the Rice apartment after a passer-by reported that Dorothy was yelling incoherently from a balcony. Inside the

Church Council Reports Promise, Serious Flaws

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A sharp, probing light was turned on America's churches today—and it found signs of great promise, but also serious flaws.

The hard-hitting appraisal came in a 6,500 word report on the "State of the Churches" to the triennial general assembly of the National Council of Churches.

It cited these factors, among others, as currently widespread characteristics of U.S. religious life:

1. Christian teachings concerning the hereafter have long been sidestepped in many churches, but are now regaining their rightful place in church perspective.
2. A trend in the churches to be ruled by the question, "What does the popular will expect of us?" is changing to a more courageously Christian guidepost, "What is the word of God which we must proclaim?"
3. Modern churches too often have put the accent on secular yardsticks of success—size, statistics and outward attractiveness—rather than spiritual dedication.
4. Many congregations would rather have a minister who is a "good administrator and promoter" than one who is "a loyal and humble disciple of Jesus Christ, a thinker and a fearless prophet of the sovereign and redeeming Lord."
5. Churches too widely have been accepting technology as "the most realistic approach" to human welfare, but now are insisting that man's spiritual condition determines the destiny of the group and the individual.
6. Interest in religion appears to be at an all-time high, with church membership over 100 million, but delinquency, immorality and social confusion also are at peaks.

Youth Jailed In Death Of Girl Friend

CHICAGO (AP)—Police said a 17-year-old boy orally admitted last night that he fatally beat and strangled a girl friend, 14, after she resisted his advances.

The body of Mary Lou Wagner of Chicago was found floating in a shallow pond in a suburb northwest of the city after, police said, the boy, Robert Fleig, had led them to the scene.

Mary Lou had been missing since Friday night. Fleig had been questioned intermittently since then. Police said Fleig previously had maintained he let the girl out of his car Friday evening about a block from her North Side home.

Police Capt. James Hackett said Fleig, a neighbor of the Wagner girl, related that he became enraged when, on a date Friday, she repulsed his advances.

"She kept saying, 'I'll tell your mother—I'll tell your mother,'" Fleig was quoted as saying.

Police said some of the girl's clothing had been removed. Fleig was held without charge for further questioning.

Miss Wagner's body was found in a lightly populated area near the village of Northfield about 10 miles from her home. The scene is about 25 miles from downtown Chicago.

The girl was a high school freshman.

Fireball Sighted Over Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A brilliant light raced through the skies over southeastern Wisconsin last night. Scientists said it fitted a meteor's description.

Harry Mason, a Kenosha County deputy sheriff, said the object appeared to be the size of a basketball and traveled from the southwest to the northeast.

"It lit up the sky like an arc light," Mason said, after spotting the dazzling ball from a patrol car about halfway between Kenosha and Racine. "The edges were fuzzy and it was only visible for a short while. I looked at my watch and it was 9:33 p.m."

Sources at Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., said that although no sightings were made, the descriptions coincided with what is normally referred to as a "fireball."

Van Horn 'Rage' Statement Admitted At Murder Trial

BALTIMORE (AP)—A statement to police that he beat his socially prominent wife to death in a "red rage" is in the record of Robert Jett Van Horn's murder trial.

A signed statement in his own handwriting was admitted into evidence Monday quoting the Baltimore lumber company executive that he hit his wife "during the only red rage I ever remember having."

Van Horn, 53, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to the June 2 killing.

Defense counsel John Grason Turnbull got a statement into the record that the 54-year-old woman was severely pummeled. Turnbull asked Dr. William V. Lovitt Jr., assistant medical examiner, "In short, this lady was terribly and horribly beaten and injured, isn't that true?"

"Yes, sir," the witness replied.

Van Horn had married his wife two years prior to her death. He was named chief beneficiary of her estate which Prosecutor Frank H. Newell III said exceeds $800,000.

The written confession of the handsome, gray-haired defendant was offered by Newell to the three judge court hearing the case without a jury in Baltimore County Circuit Court in suburban Towson.

As Newell read accounts of the brutal beating of the victim, Van Horn sat cradling his head in his hands. Occasionally he mopped his brow with a neatly folded white handkerchief kept in his jacket pocket. He wore a double-breasted gray suit, white shirt and black tie.

In his opening statement, Newell said the independently wealthy woman had been "brutally and maliciously murdered" by Van Horn, who did it "wilfully, well knowing the nature and quality of his act."

The lengthy statement the prosecutor said Van Horn wrote out quoted the defendant that he and his wife had words over a change of plans in a road trip and on the subject of servants for their Baltimore County farm, and it added: "Changing plans always tended to upset her a little . . ."

"One word led to another, but without real animus until we were out on the porch in the dark going to the car. I was walking down the steps ahead, so she could see them, when she made a sharp remark."

"I turned over my shoulder and I suppose replied in kind. We were in the dark except for whatever moonlight was there, and I didn't see her swing her evening bag at me, knocked my glasses off and stung me sharply."

"I went into the only red rage that I ever remember having. I don't know what I hit her with except my fists, but the first thing I knew was the farmer calling out to see if everything was all right."

"I told him 'yes,' which couldn't have been wrong — she was dead."

In earlier testimony, Officer Edward Schaffer told to coming on Van Horn while cruising near the Jones Falls Expressway and Joppa Road.

Van Horn was threatening to commit suicide, but police said they were able to divert his attention long enough to grab the weapon. Nearby, down an embankment, police found Mrs. Van Horn's body. Schaffer said it was covered with dirt except for her legs and hair.

Eisenhower

word from his doctors on whether he can go.

The White House session today is one of an annual series, called to fill in the leaders of both parties on the administration program for the coming year in the foreign policy and national defense fields.

A special item on the schedule this year is a preview of proposals for the NATO meeting, which comes only about two weeks before Congress goes back into business.

In advance of the meeting, Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) and some other influential members of the Capitol delegation made it plain they will not be satisfied with anything less than drastic action to speed U.S. missile and satellite development in the face of the Communist challenge.

"Must Support Program" "There is no doubt in my mind that we are behind the Soviets in everything but short-range missiles," said Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. "We can catch up only if the executive branch will get behind our program and make it move."

Eisenhower, who presided for an hour and 40 minutes over a Cabinet meeting yesterday, was expected to give a personal send-off to a scheduled three-hour briefing. His twice-defeated Democratic presidential opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson, was invited along with congressional chiefs of both parties.

Eisenhower felt so well after yesterday's activities—which included a drive from his Gettysburg farm to Washington—that he went out at dusk to practice golf chip shots for 15 minutes on the White House lawn.

Afterward, press secretary James C. Hagerty relayed a report from Eisenhower's doctors that "the President's condition is excellent and he shows no signs of fatigue."

Hagerty said the question of whether Eisenhower would attend the North Atlantic Council meeting in Paris Dec. 16 did not come up at the Cabinet session.

Officer Kills Youth, 14, In Stolen Auto

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A state trooper shot and killed a 14-year-old Pittsburgh boy last night as the boy deliberately tried to run him down after a 100-mile-an-hour stolen car chase.

Lt. Richard Gray identified the boy as Paul Misencik. The officer said Misencik was shot by Trooper Homer L. Redd of the Greensburg barracks.

Anthony Machi, 13, Pittsburgh, who was riding with Misencik escaped injury as the stolen auto crashed after Trooper Redd fired the shot which hit Misencik in the head.

Trooper Redd was on a routine patrol when he spotted a auto being driven at high speed. The car, it was learned later, had been reported stolen earlier in the night from Cosmotti Motors Co. in Braddock, a Pittsburgh suburb.

Lt. Gray said Trooper Redd chased the auto at speeds up to 100 miles an hour. Then the stolen car slowed almost to a stop, Gray said, adding:

"Redd pulled up behind the car, thinking they were going to stop." The trooper got out of his machine, the lieutenant said, "when all of a sudden, the boy pulled ahead, swerved the car around and headed for the trooper."

Redd stepped out of the path of the car and, as he did, pulled his service revolver. He fired one shot as the car sped by.

Judge Holds Up Ruling In Dispute

Two Damage Suits Filed As Result Of Rt. 51 Wreck

After hearing testimony by five witnesses in Allegany County Circuit Court, Chief Judge George Henderson yesterday deferred making a decision in a cross-claim filed as a result of a two-car auto accident on Route 51 near the city limits.

The original suit was filed by Douglas, Dewey Deffenbaugh of Oldtown. Deffenbaugh, to his own use and to the use of Mutual Auto Fire Insurance Company. He seeks $2,500 damages from Ellis Augustus Rose, Oldtown Road.

Deffenbaugh charged in his declaration that his 1954 model automobile was a total wreck as a result of the accident, which occurred near The Blue Room on State Route 51. Deffenbaugh said he was driving properly along the Oldtown Road toward Cumberland last January 19 when the defendant's car failed to yield the right-of-way and crossed the highway in front of his car.

The Oldtown man said his car was virtually ruined after striking Rose's car and several used cars on a nearby lot belonging to Eugene K. Edwards. The used car dealer received a $410 settlement for his loss.

Rose, for his own use and the use of Aetna Casualty and Surety Company, brought a $1,000 cross-suit against Deffenbaugh. It charged that Rose already had crossed the highway and was on the City Dump Road when the accident occurred. The cross-claim attributed the crash to Deffenbaugh's excessive speed. Aetna insured Rose's car and paid him $265.65 for his damages, the cross-claim said.

Five witnesses were heard yesterday by Judge Henderson. They were Edwards, the used car owner; Deffenbaugh, Robert Wolford, former state trooper who investigated the crash; Trooper Carlton Lewis, who also joined in the investigation, and Rose.

Deffenbaugh was represented by Attorneys Edward J. Ryan and W. Earle Cobey and Rose by Attorneys William C. Walsh and William Walsh.

Bulls Nab Bull In Baltimore

BALTIMORE—There was no one around to shout "Ole!" but patrolmen Walter Sheppard and Hallam Evans finally subdued the one-ton Brahma bull in a clearing off Washington Boulevard.

The bull had vaulted the fence of a meat-packing company pen. The police fired away with revolver and 30-30 rifle as the enraged animal charged their car again and again, but bullets bounced off his tough hide. They finally brought him down, after using about 50 bullets.

The mother of Theodore Roosevelt was from Georgia. Two of her brothers fought in the Confederate army.

String Orchestra Planned Here For Elementary Pupils

A string orchestra for pupils of Cumberland area elementary schools will be organized beginning Saturday, January 18, at West Side School, according to Frank E. Gamble, supervisor of music education in county schools. A band for elementary music pupils which has functioned here for several years will start on January 11, he pointed out.

Miss Pauline Cira, traveling instrumental instructor in the elementary schools, will direct the new orchestra. Nine Saturday morning rehearsals from 9:30 until 11:30 will culminate in a concert next May. The practices are scheduled for January 18, February 1 and 15, March 1, 15 and 29, April 19, May 3 and 17. All string pupils who have had at least one year of instruction, whether privately or in the school instrumental program, are eligible. Gamble has sent a form letter to the parents of all string musicians who are eligible for the orchestra. He explains that it will be necessary for the parents to arrange for their child's transportation to and from rehearsals.

It will be necessary for assignments to be properly prepared if the student is to remain a member of this group. Instrument and music stand should be taken to the first meeting. Parents are requested to fill out an enrollment form immediately to enroll their children in the orchestra.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Tottering Throne

AS RUSSIA'S Communist party boss, Nikita Khrushchev, has moved steadily to purge or banish his rivals for absolute power, the world naturally has drawn parallels with the relentless climb of the late Joseph Stalin to full dictatorship. But sober experts on the Soviet Union are raising major doubts that Khrushchev can in fact wield one-man power as Stalin did. For one thing, he seems to lack the mental and physical makeup of the true dictator, for all his evident ruthlessness. Stalin presented to his enemies a forbidding mien that inevitably stirred fear. He seemed to keep himself in the grip of an iron discipline. Khrushchev exhibits no such commanding authority. Too often he allows himself to be seen by key Soviet leaders and others for what he is—an aging peasant who likes to get drunk and horse around.

BOTH TO Russians and to outsiders he must seem a volatile, unpredictable figure. In one breath he tells Americans "we will bury you." In the next he suggests a rocket duel with us to see who can fire a missile the farthest. Responsible elements in the Kremlin and other high councils, not eager to become involved in the inevitable mutual ruin of nuclear war, may see danger in the leadership of such a man. But the second point is that for all his brushing aside of rivals, Khrushchev is not really purging in the complete, or Stalinist way. As NEA's Leon Dennen observes, he tends to lope off the top and leave the spreading tree beneath. Thus, though Marshal Zhukov is ousted, many in the Red Army who support him are still around. The same can be said of his action against Malenkov, representing the bureaucratic-managerial class, and Molotov, representing the Soviet diplomatic corps. Many of the supporters still hold positions in the Soviet structure. More than one expert says the bureaucrats and so-called technocrats now are the ruling class in Russia. Some note, too, that the intelligentsia, comprising writers, artists and the like, also looms larger than in Stalin's day.

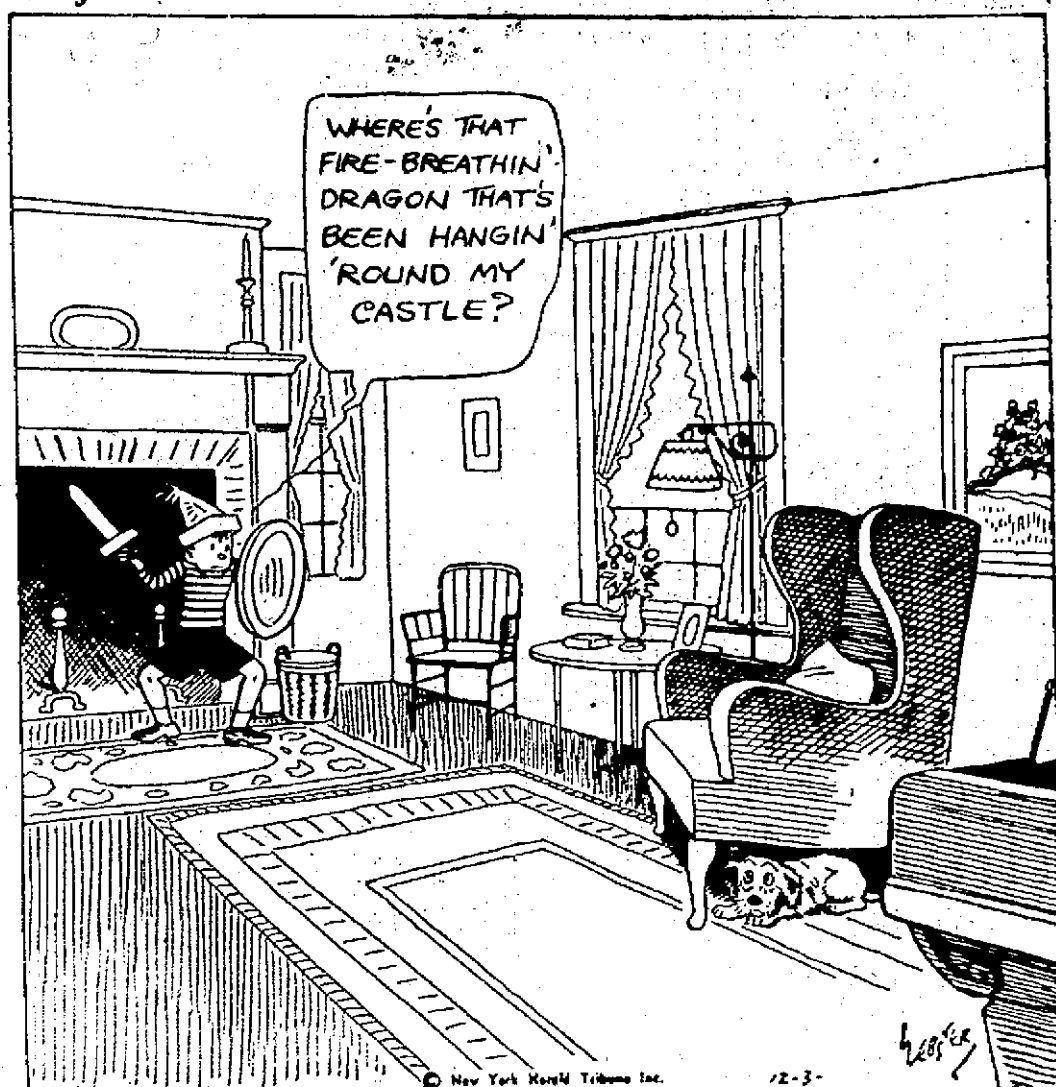

THE QUESTION is raised whether control of the Communist party is any longer sufficient to assure control of Russia, as it once did. Non-party groups have increased weight and size. Stalin used the secret police as a powerful weapon against all rivals, including the army. Khrushchev humbled the police when he crushed his first rival, Beria. So today the army, like other rising groups, is not so easily managed. To batter down all this competing power would require a blood purge of unexampled proportions. Many doubt that Khrushchev will ever launch it. They question if he has the power, the temperament, the energy at 63, or the will to defy an outraged world opinion. Today Khrushchev sits on top, true enough. But some of the casters seem to be missing from his throne chair, and it could topple as the milling forces around him push and shove.

Challenge

MANY COMPETENT, qualified and sincere teachers on college and university faculties have expressed grave concern because of the moods and attitudes of the present generation of youth. In various sections of the country, college teachers are concerned because so many young students seem to be more bent on security than on the acquisition of knowledge. They speak of a decline in curiosity in students. Sputnik has beeped a warning signal. The present generation of students may one day have to stand up to men like Khrushchev. We are in a new era, one in which security might not be best gained by security-seeking and security-mongering. The future will call for vision, knowledge, boldness, not caution. If many professors be correct in their judgment of the students today, it can only be stated that youth is living in a dream world. The period of youth is the time to question values, to be intellectually daring and to send the mind ranging far and wide. Students should think about their attitudes. It is possible to throw away one's education and one's life in intellectual timidity as well as by dissipation.

Public Overlooks Humor Of Saroyan Plays

NEW YORK—William Saroyan is allegedly the world's gentlest playwright, its Pollyanna philosopher, whimsical lover of people wherever you are.

"That's what I'm supposed to be," Mr. Saroyan says, "a guy who likes everybody."

"Well, I don't like most people. I do like the human race. I must say, or I'd leave it. It's a monstrous mess, the human race. I admit that. But when I find people who loathe themselves and the world, I say they should leave it."

MR. SAROYAN smiled, with a rakish lift of his moustache. "But it would be pitiful if I—or you—didn't hate some people. Loathing is a good thing. Like yeast. It ferments, and makes ideas grow."

The Pulitzer-winning playwright, whose outrageous sense of humor and blandly-spoken forthrightness are apt to become confusing to the listener, went on. About people.

"The people I tend to like more than anyone else," he remarks, "are those with strong individual manifestations of the human race."

"The others—if they are people who are just there, doing what all the other people are doing—well, my feeling that they are dull is usually confirmed with greater acquaintance."

"However," and Saroyan paused thoughtfully over a swig of espresso, "anybody is worthwhile who survives. This is my opinion. Whether I like or hate them, I have to say with respect, 'Look at that guy. He's hangin' on too.'"

SAROYAN HAS gladdened readers' and audiences' hearts since the '30's when his first Broadway play, "My Heart's in the Highlands," confused the critics and delighted a public weary of the depression's depression.

That was followed shortly by such happy dramas as the Pulitzer prize play, "The Time Of Your Life," and subsequently "The Beautiful People," "The Human Comedy," and his latest, "The Cave Dwellers," a bouncing hit.

"Isn't it strange," he says, "most of my stuff is funny—and hardly anybody gets it." Not even the critics? "You couldn't call most of them critics. Most of them are reviewers."

"But the reviewers of my plays have been generally wrong, yes."

OF HIS NEW play, a sell-out which the New York critics—ah! reviewers—generally raved about, Saroyan says this:

"On the whole, it's fairly impressive. But no, it's not right."

Saroyan himself did not direct it. And he feels that "if the writer directs a play, the whole texture, line and movement would be different. Therefore, there are a lot of funny lines in there ('The Cave Dwellers') that are thrown away, and a lot of inflections that lose emotion."

"But as I say, nobody realizes I'm writing humor. Which is, by the way, the human race's best chance to get back its health."

Bomb Shelter Plan Again Comes Forth

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H-bomb, revived one of the oldest unanswered questions in Washington when he told Sen. Lyndon Johnson's Preparedness subcommittee: "We should do more about shelters."

Ever since Federal Civil Defense Administration was set up in 1950, its successive heads have beat their brains out trying to get a bomb shelter program started. Nobody has been able to make the necessary decision to go ahead. The White House, Congress and the general public have all shown the shelter program nothing but indifference.

But Dr. Teller has now given it new emphasis. He says building missiles for active defense is not the whole answer to the new Russian threat. Passive defense—the building of shelters—is also important.

The University of California radiation laboratory scientist did not advocate a crash shelter building program. He advocated the development of shelters at a reasonable rate.

He did not propose that all shelters be built to give protection against blast. The principal protection to be afforded is against radioactive fall-out.

DR. TELLER favored the building of dual-purpose shelters in new structures. By this means a protective program can be built up gradually.

Dual-purpose shelters offer considerable promise. This would mean putting added structural strength, at little additional cost, in new school gymnasiums, shopping centers and underground parking centers to accommodate many people.

But it is the cost of a shelter program that is its principal obstacle. Complete protection might cost more than missiles for retaliation against a Russian H-bomb attack.

An Atomic Energy subcommittee under Rep. Chet Holifield has held some hearings on a shelter program. One bill now pending in Congress would provide federal assistance for state and local shelter construction. Initial cost was put at eight billion dollars—then raised to 14 billion dollars.

This bill would also make the Federal Civil Defense Administrator—now ex-Gov. Leo Arthur Hoegh—a cabinet officer. This would give all civil defense programs higher priority and possibly get them rolling.

FORMER FCDA Administrator Val Peterson told a House Appropriations subcommittee last February that a beginning shelter program would cost around 32 billion dollars.

Details of this program were never made public. It was prepared for President Eisenhower. Until the White House releases it, nobody will talk. It is now being re-evaluated.

FCDA recently issued a new set of plans for a shelter that could be built in a private home. This was distributed to state civil defense administrators meeting in Washington. No copies have yet been printed for general distribution.

The estimated cost for this new shelter is $3,000. For 10 million units in residential areas, 33 billion dollars.

For more congested, metropolitan areas, a test survey was made in St. Louis, Mo., last year. Its purpose was to develop a plan that would provide shelters which could be reached by a population of 1,750,000 within 10 minutes.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—Somebody is always spending a lot of money in New York creating a center where the average man and woman dined up in the town can flitch decorating and furnishing ideas.

One will open soon far over in an East Side block between 53rd and 54th Streets, for example, and there a harassed gent or lady can look at exhibits telling him or her how to use brass, marble, nylon, rayon, iron and other materials to create the atmosphere of a happy Manhattan home. Even suburbanites aren't excluded.

THIS IS known as the hard way. The easy way is to read newspapers, know one or two articulate decorators, get the hints of a trend in home decor and then go out and cage your way into the newest mode.

When this reporter arrived in New York from California back in 1949, he used to slurp up an afternoon chocolate malted in a small Italian place down at 22nd Street and Eighth Avenue. It was all done up modern and bright and, one day, the proprietor was complaining.

"It's a crazy town," he said. "I ripped out a marble fountain here and the street cleaning and trash services of the city refused to take away the marble. Too heavy. The lowest bid I got on private haulage to a city dump was $27. So I put it in the back yard and there it will stay until someone walks in here and offers to take it away for free."

EXACTLY TWO years later the use of marble-topped tables from dining size to coffee table size began to emerge as hot stuff in the decor department. My wife threatened to spend $175 of her own hard-earned money to latch on to a table with a marble top.

I told her to hold back. I thought I knew where I could get all the marble she could use for nothing. I took the station wagon back down to Eighth Avenue and asked Alfredo if he still had all that marble in the back yard. "Sure is," he said. "You want?"

I wanted, I took, I hauled. We now have enough marble lying around to pave floors.

ANOTHER time Mama read that exotic lamps could be made from old high-button shoes, small corsets amply studded with black lace and similar trash basket items and why didn't we either go right to the store and buy a divine one she saw for $75 or else try and make one? I voted to make one. Who wouldn't?

I went to Goodwill Industries and fetched up with some old shoes, some Victorian lingerie, scrambled some wire and connections out of a box we keep called "Electric Items. Who Knows?" and for about $2.11 we had a lamp a decorator offered to buy for $75 because, "I have a daffy client who'll pay me $125 for it."

THE THING now is large bird cages designed and built about 1880 and they tend to look like the Crystal Palace with wings, eels, porches, high ceilings and domes. Along Madison Avenue even a middling example of the period will bring $200 without blinking an eye.

I remembered an old lady out on Long Island who had one in her attic and she had once said: "If I weren't embarrassed to have it in my trash, I'd throw that thing out." I went to see her and for $5, pressed on her as conscience money. I now have what looks like an ornithological miniature of Buckingham Palace. Another decorator has offered $50 for it, and I know the outlay would go right out and get $250 for it.

THERE IS, in Hollywood, you should excuse the word, a man named Harry Lachman who used to be a painter (Luxembourg Museum has one painting of his), then a movie director. Tiring of both pursuits, he decided to create art out of trash for expensive tastes.

He has a shop in Beverly Hills now called The Patio Shop and Harry will rescue a horse collar from the city dump, glaze it, stud it with sequins, hang it on a black grosgrain ribbon and feel no twinge of decency in asking $150 for it. Also, he gets $150 for it. He sells everything he converts—including duded-up old plumbing items.

THE MORAL of all this is: a little ingenuity, a touch of madness and a built-in aversion to parting with a buck unless you have to will cause you to go out and dredge up from almost anywhere items which are presently much in decorative vogue. You don't have to have decorators do it for you. Just read what the new trend is and go out to the ash heap and find what you want. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Just An Old Man And A Boy

WASHINGTON — I can't get the old man and the boy out of my head.

The boy was my friend, Bob Ruark, the columnist. The old man was his grandfather. They were pals down there on the North Carolina coast.

The women folks always were driving them out of the house with their carpet sweepers and their polishings and the old man and the boy spent a good deal of their time wandering the beaches and the swamps, where the water was dyed brown by the fallen leaves.

ON THESE expeditions the old man showed the boy how to catch a fish and shoot a bird and appreciate Shakespeare. The old man truly knew his way around this old world. His knowledge he tried to impart to the boy.

Now Ruark has written a book entitled, "The Old Man and the Boy," and I found it a delight. You wouldn't exactly call this a review, but I think you also might enjoy Bob's book. It's a pleasure just to tell you.

"YOU CAN'T pour a gallon into a one quart brain," the old man observed while he and the boys were fishing for mullets that night the boy couldn't sleep.

He called out his dog and wandered down by the river, and while the moon turned the water to milk he added up all the things the old man had taught him. He decided that his brain must certainly be bigger than one quart to hold all that. Then he went to bed and slept soundly.

"SOON a strange and wonderful thing happened to me in the schoolroom," Bob continued. "I discovered reading. I found out that Shakespeare had more muscles than Donnie Watts (the local strong boy) and was responsible for more rough characters than a water front. He knew more man-type jokes than the boys at Gus McNeill's filling station and his language was frank enough to be of great interest to a boy."

"I took on Shakespeare as I'd learned to build a turkey blind and he was a cinch."

AGAIN BOB tells about Cape Hatteras after the tourists leave on Labor Day.

"A beach suddenly flushed clean of strangers is a wonderfully lonesome place," he said. "The summer cottages and the hotels board up their windows against the first northers."

"The trolley service goes on winter schedule and only the Greek keeps his general store open part time. Mostly he is whipping the sloughs for the blue-fish and sea trout that come in close to feed on the minnows and sand fleas.

"The weather knows it when the tourists leave. It invariably stayed fine for the long, noisy weekend, but by Wednesday we generally had a gorgeous three-day norther started and that norther always was the most exciting thing about the summer."

"AN ATLANTIC beach in a norther is wild and exhilarating. The sky turns gray and the wind drives the rain in angry gusts. The surf booms and towering sheets of spume drive skyward as the waves smash into the sands. Suddenly the tin stove earns its pay and the driftwood in the fireplace burns blue and green."

A sweatshirt and flannel pants feel wonderful and there is a snugness to the little gray-weathered shingle cottage that is missing during the summer squalls."

The temptation is to go on quoting, but that wouldn't be fair either to you or Bob. He doesn't need the money, goodness knows, but he'd still appreciate some cash customers.

As for me, I now know more about life in North Carolina probably than most North Carolinians. It was an especially good life for the boy, thanks to the old man. I wish I could have been there, too.

Reporter's Notebook

WASHINGTON—"No, Rover, I can never marry you," sobbed Mimi, the beautiful French poodle. "Go, and never darken my kennel door again."

"Hah!" declaimed the spurned suitor. "I'm not good enough for you, eh? You think I can't buy you the chopped sirloin you're accustomed to!"

"It's not that, Rover," Mimi wept. "I'd share my last bone with you. But—" "I see it all now," said the male dog darkly. "It's because I'm a beagle, isn't it? You think of me as an inferior, just because you won that silly best-of-show ribbon!"

"No, no!" Mimi's protests rose to an hysterical yelp. "I have nothing against you at all, Rover. If I were to marry anyone—but I can't, you see. Not ever. Not while—" a delicate blush undercoated her powder-gray muzzle.

Then she confessed: "It's the puppies I'm thinking of, Rover. Do you think dogs have any right to bring puppies into a world like this? When they might be packed in a Sputnik and shot out into space at any moment?"

ROVER—HALF WAY out the door at the mention of puppies—whirled on his heel, which is no mean trick for a beagle.

"Why, you silly goose," he laughed. "What a thing to be afraid of. One dog in all this world has been Sputniked. The chances that one of ours might be—it's simply fantastic."

"These are fantastic times," Mimi reminded him. "Who knows how many Sputniks there may be? Who knows how many dogs can be put into a Sputnik? I—I'm sorry, Rover. I just can't take the chance." "All right, suppose it happened," he said. "Suppose one of our pups was the first dog to reach the moon. Wouldn't you be proud?"

"I'd be scared to death," said Mimi, weeping again.

"DOGS ON THE moon," Rover mused. "We could run the place to suit ourselves. We'd have it all organized by the time people got there. We'd make them our slaves. I can hear us now. 'Here, human, roll over, human. Jump through this hoop, human.'"

"And we'd give them silly names," chimed in Mimi excitedly, pawing away her leas.

"We'd hire people—catchers to put them in concentration camps if they didn't have people tags on their collars!"

Raply, Mimi and Rover gazed upon each other.

"Name the day," growled Rover softly. "You and I may not see this bright tomorrow. But our puppies, and our puppies' puppies. . . ."

From outside the kennel a human voice ruptured their moment.

"Some here, you rascals! Heel, you villians! Out of there, you fleabags! Time for your walk!"

"Yes—oh, yes, Rover," whispered Mimi before they scampered to obedience. "I'll marry you. The future belongs to us!"

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—For a number of years, a lady of pronounced Republican leanings has occupied an office on the sixth floor of the State Department, just above that of Secretary John Foster Dulles; where she carries on a rather delicate operation. She ministers to U. S. Ambassadors and Chiefs of Mission who have been called back to Washington for consultation, and other things.

This GOPish gentlewoman, Leonora Hendershot, nearly always has at least one of our sojourning envoys on her hands because, while they are in our midst, they make her office their own. She furnishes secretaries for them from the Department's well-filled pool, helps them prepare confidential reports, and generally attends to their manifold wants.

She had every reason to believe that her office was sacrosanct against any upheaval because the current hierarchy of the State Department is suspected of having a Republican tinge, too. Consequently she was no little disturbed the other day when carpenters, painters, and decorators descended on her sanctum and announced they were moving her out.

They said that her office, which had become shabby from long and hectic use, was to be done over with new furniture, carpets and drapes. She was inclined to accept this with resignation until they informed her for whom her quarters were being so vastly improved.

The Republican lady then really gritted her teeth. She was told that she was being evicted to make room for Secretary Dulles' newest advisor—the extremely Democratic Adlai E. Stevenson.

JOHN L. LEWIS, the United Mine Workers outspoken boss, told a newspaperman friend the other day of an interesting conversation he had just had with another big union figure. The latter, according to Lewis, was disposed to find excuses for Dave Beck, deposed head of the Teamsters Union.

"Dave Beck isn't really a bad fellow," Lewis quoted his colleague as saying. "He doesn't think the things he does are wrong. He is just—there's a word—or a saying—for it. But I just can't think of it for the moment. It is just that he—hat—he—" "You mean," intoned the eyebrows, "that he has no sense of fiduciary obligation."

WHEN AMERICA'S two top scientists, Drs. Edward Teller and Vanevar Bush, were testifying before the Senate preparedness subcommittee, one of the seemingly-absorbed front row spectators was none other than our scientific society hostess, Gwendolyn Cafritz. The lady noted, as if in approval as the two titans of science told chairman Lyndon Johnson and his fellow senators that what this country needs is a broad program of military and scientific effort.

Her reaction was taken as a hopeful sign to many of those present because, if anybody can confound the Russians, it is Mrs. Cafritz.

I am just afraid, however, that she may be ahead of her time. As one scientifically-minded gentleman at the press table observed:

"There are only four people on earth who understand the Cafritzian theory—but she ain't one of them."

Truck Drivers Warned On Overweight By Judge

Area truck drivers yesterday afternoon were warned against driving overweight vehicles across the Wiley Ford bridge between Cumberland and West Virginia. Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick said he has tried several truck drivers in Trial Magistrates Court in the past week or so for violations of the weight law on the bridge. They also have ordered a close check to nab violators of the 10,000-pound limit. Magistrate Dick said that in the bridge's present condition no tractor-trailer truck can cross it, as most of these rigs are over the weight limit even when empty. The magistrate said the first group of violators tried in his court received suspended fines and were warned. Another group which had overweights ranging from 4,200 pounds to 7,200 pounds, the magistrate said, were fined $25 apiece. Under the law violators can receive a maximum fine of $100, to help to widen and reinforce the structure. West Virginia officials say at present there are no funds available to fix the bridge, so Maryland SRC authorities have urged that truckers be careful in using the bridge, he said.

Three-Gallon Club Enrolls Two More Men

Walter Heiser, 124 Arch Street, and Robert V. Snowden, 424 Central Avenue, yesterday became members of the Three-Gallon Club as they donated their 24th pint of blood each to the Red Cross Blood program.

On its regular monthly visit yesterday, the bloodmobile unit collected a total of 124 pints of blood. Allegany County Chapter Red Cross had scheduled 295 potential donors, but of this number only 108 kept their appointments. There were however, 30 volunteer walk-ins, making a total arrivals of 138.

Of that number, physicians on duty rejected 14 due to colds or other recent disability. There were seven first-time donors and five gave blood as replacement for friends and relatives who drew blood from the bank while sick or injured.

Physicians on duty included Dr. R. A. Reiter, Dr. Blaine Schindler and Dr. Thomas Lusby. In addition to the three-gallon donors listed yesterday there were six people who became members of the Two-Gallon Club.

They are Mrs. Emma Boyer, 1128 Frederick Street; W. R. Brooks, 451 Pine Avenue; Mrs. Pearl Doner, RFD 6; George E. Speis, 727 Fayette Street; Mrs. H. B. Clark, 567 Patterson Avenue; and Bashore Cross Sr., 517 Central Avenue.

The next visit of the bloodmobile will be at the Eagles Building January 6, with a visit the following day at the American Legion Home in Frostburg.

Judge Dismisses Indictments Against 10 Alleged Communists

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge yesterday dismissed Smith Act conspiracy indictments against 10 alleged California Communist leaders after the government reluctantly requested the action.

U.S. Judge Ben Harrison granted dismissal after Asst. U.S. Atty. Norman Neukom presented a Department of Justice letter saying in part:

"The comprehensive review conducted by departmental attorneys assigned to the preparation and retrial of this case establishes that we cannot satisfy the evidentiary requirements laid down by the Supreme Court in its opinion reversing the conviction in this matter."

Eagles Would Ban Age Discrimination

Petitions urging Congress to outlaw discrimination in employment based on age are being distributed by Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, as part of a nationwide Eagles "Jobs After 40" campaign.

Glen W. Sonner, aerie president, said the fraternity nationally hopes to obtain half a million signatures to present to Congress at its next session early in 1958. Already pending in the Senate is a bill which would ban age as an arbitrary job barrier in employment policies.

Bald-Headed Women? Seeds!

MARY DONNELLY... Wigs are her business.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — This may come as quite a surprise to men, but there are as many bald-headed women as men.

Authority for that random statistic is 43-year-old Mrs. Ruth Mary Donnelly, a wigmaker known professionally as M. Ruth.

As far as her trade is concerned, she has three women clients to every man, and the men who come to her establishment to have a "rug" made are, for the most part, under 30 years of age. At that age men are quite sensitive about the loss of hair. Women always are, which explains why nobody sees a bald-headed woman. They do something about it, and quick.

Mrs. Donnelly says she really enjoys her rather unusual occupation.

"Bald heads used to make me nervous," she explains, "but today they present an artistic challenge. Much as an artist gazing at an unpainted canvas, you see the heads as forms on which to create attractive hair lines."

"It is very rewarding to see your creation restore the confidence of men and women who have lost their hair. It is a re-comparison. Germany's schools have three year courses.

"We use human hair in the wigs, most of it from Europe, because it is longer, Chinese and Indian hair is less satisfactory than European and American."

Mrs. Donnelly is married to a utility company executive.

Youth Accused In Shooting Boy Over Girl Friend

SALISBURY — A 17-year-old youth was held in jail here today on a charge of killing another boy in a quarrel over who had a right to date a girl.

Robert Douglas Bruce of Fruitland was accused in the Sunday night pistol shooting of Noland L. Willey, also 17, of Bethel, Del.

Scott Bruce, 15-year-old brother of Robert, was quoted by police as saying his brother had been dating a girl. Willey told the older Bruce boy he was keeping an eye on the girl for a friend who was out of town.

In the ensuing argument, the boys went to the girl's house to ask her to help settle the matter. But her mother, Mrs. Marvin Dunn, told them the girl was asleep.

The boys, each backed up by a crowd of chums who had accompanied them, continued haggling on the street.

Scott Bruce told police Willey grabbed Robert by the collar and threatened him with a knife. A moment later Willey was shot in the chest with a .32 caliber automatic pistol.

Scott said he did not know how his brother happened to have a gun. Robert, a "C" student at Wilcomico High School, was president of the Stamp Club there.

Willey had a record of breaking, entering and larceny, police said.

Orr Elected President County Unit

Wilkinson Declines Post As Wilson Becomes Member

The new president of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners is James Orr.

He was chosen this morning at the first meeting attended by the new county commissioner, William A. Wilson of Midland.

Wilson, who succeeded William H. Lemmert, former board president and 11 years a county commissioner, held the deciding vote.

Wilkinson Declines

The new commissioner, however, first offered his vote to C. N. Wilkinson, the third county commissioner, for chairman.

But Wilkinson turned the presidency down, saying "probably later, not now."

The selection was made following Orr's suggestion that the board go into executive session and select a president. Orr was acting board president to open the meeting.

But Wilson objected, saying he would not be in favor of a closed meeting. Following his remarks, the selection was made in Orr's favor.

Wilson also made his initial remarks at his first board meeting by stating that he wanted a clear understanding that regardless of the motion or idea presented by either of his two fellow board members, he would vote for it on its merits.

Wants Harmony

"The people are anxious to have the board function in harmony, and I am for their wishes," he declared.

Wilson's appearance on the board follows three years that found Commissioner Orr and former President Lemmert being at odds with Commissioner Wilkinson.

Feelings on county policy erupted on a number of occasions between Lemmert and Wilkinson, with a near fist fight being stopped at one time.

On many occasions, proposals made by Wilkinson fell on the deaf ears of Lemmert and Orr, dying for the want of a second.

The converse was true with Wilkinson voting no on motions made by Orr and Lemmert on many occasions.

PTA Council Panel Views Child Safety

A panel discussion "Protection of the School Child," featured the meeting of the Allegany County PTA Council last night at Johnson Heights School.

Harry Baker, chairman of the council's Safety Committee, was in charge of the discussion. Members of the panel were Lt. W. E. O'Hara of the LaVale barracks of Maryland State Police; Sgt. James W. Brown of the Cumberland Police Department; Ward Wilson, president of the School Bus Association; and Mrs. Mildred Kuhn, patrol advisor for Johnson Heights School.

The council also discussed at length its main project, awarding of scholarships to Froburg State Teachers College. Six students have been given scholarships in the past two years. They are chosen strictly on the basis of scholarship and need for a scholarship.

The council's scholarship committee is headed by Dr. Lillian C. Compton, former president of Froburg State; Robert Jones; and Mrs. Lawrence Shafferman, council president.

Johnson Heights PTA, of which Raymond Hahney is president, was host to the council. Miss Loretta McGeady is Johnson Heights principal. Approximately 165 attended.

Street Benches Moved To Give Shoppers Room

Street benches placed on Baltimore Street for comfort of shoppers and pedestrians are being removed because of the heavy pedestrian traffic during the holiday season.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz advised the Mayor and Council yesterday of the move. He said he was advising them of the fact in event they were questioned concerning whereabouts of the benches.

Council granted the Church Council of St. Luke's Lutheran Church permission to broadcast Christmas carols during the December 20-27 period.

Complaints were heard from the following: Mrs. J. H. Carscaden called attention to the condition of Paw Paw alley between Poca and Beall Streets and the matter was referred to Buchholz and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum.

E. S. Williams Gives Up Post As Chairman

To Continue In Advisory Capacity With WM Railroad

Eugene S. Williams, native of Romney who had a law practice here, has resigned his position as chairman of the board of the Western Maryland Railway, and the executive duties which the job carried.

Williams, who has held that position since May 1, 1952, will remain associated with the company in an advisory capacity and as a member of the board of directors, the firm announced today.

As a result of this action, the position of chairman of the board was abolished today at a meeting of the board of directors in New York City.

Former President

Williams served as president of the company from January 1, 1948, to May 1, 1952, when he was elected board chairman and succeeded as president by W. Arthur Grotz.

He received his bachelor of laws degree from University of Maryland in 1917. That year he was admitted to the Maryland bar, and opened an office in Cumberland.

After service in the Army during World War I, he opened law practice in Cumberland which he continued until 1923 when he joined the legal staff of the railroad. He was made vice president and general counsel in 1935, a position he held until 1948 when he became president and chairman of the board.

Williams served in the Air Force during World War II.

Tribute By Grotz

Today, Grotz issued this tribute to Williams:

"The board of directors has warmly complimented Williams for his many years of outstanding service, his leadership, and the wide circle of friends he has gained for the company."

During the last ten years of Williams' administrative duties, the Western Maryland Railway has shown marked progress in improving both its physical property and its financial structure.

Expenditures for equipment alone in that period have exceeded $100,000,000, including an

New Buying Plan Voted For County

Purchases Will Be Made Locally When Advantageous

A plan to buy locally when possible and advantageous, and to have all purchase orders, except in emergencies, presented to the Board of Allegany County Commissioners before any buying, was adopted this morning by the board.

The issue was brought up by William A. Wilson, the new county commissioner at his first meeting, when he questioned the policy of the board purchasing a germicide for use in county buildings from a Pennsylvania concern.

The salesman appeared this morning and took the usual order, and afterward the issue was brought up.

All in Agreement

Wilson said all purchases should be made from county concerns paying county taxes.

The other commissioners agreed, and C. N. Wilkinson pointed out that purchase orders were being handled improperly under policy that had been established.

Wilson said in many cases the purchase order would be presented to the county board at one of its two weekly meetings, accompanied by a bill for the material.

Getting the bill and the purchase order at the same time is improper, he maintained. No individual employed by the county should buy anything until the board knows about it, he added.

Commissioners Responsible

Wilkinson declared the purchase order should be presented to the commissioners, so that it would be either rejected or accepted.

The county commissioners are held responsible to the taxpayers, he added. Some people, he indicated, have lost sight of this fact.

Wilson said the purpose of a purchase order was to have it presented before the responsible body for acceptance or rejection.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, asked about emergency buying, when a piece of equipment breaks down and an immediate purchase is necessary to keep it in operation.

He was informed that he should not wait to have purchases of this type approved, but to follow through with an emergency order.

Chapman's Warning

The discussion between Chapman and Wilkinson narrowly escaped being a repetition of past disputes at board meetings, but Chapman said he was perfectly willing to go along with any directive of the board.

Chapman added that if the commissioners wanted to take away any of the responsibilities he has taken as head of the County Roads Department, and assume them, he also approved.

It was agreed by all three that purchase orders except for emergency buying, should be presented by all department heads to the commissioners before any purchases are made.

They also agreed that the buying at the county institutions, the Home, Infirmary and Sylvan Retreat, would be excepted.

This is because the commissioners hold a monthly meeting with the heads of these departments concerning the operations.

Dividend Voted By Liberty Trust

The Board of Directors of The Liberty Trust Company at its weekly meeting this morning declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 40 cents a share on the bank's capital stock of 70,000 shares of $10 par value.

On June 30 this year, a semi-annual dividend of 40 cents a share was paid making a total paid out of the earnings for 1957 of $1.20 a share of 12 per cent par value of stock.

The dividend is payable January 10, 1958 to stockholders of record December 27, 1957.

Glass Plant Worker Joins Turtle Club

A member of the Yard Department of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works 7 has been awarded membership in "The Turtle Club," an organization of men and women who have had their lives saved by the wearing of protective "hard hats."

He is William Miles who on September 14 was unloading cubic (glass) from a bin when a large piece of glass flew from the chute and struck his safety hat.

He was not injured and lost no time from work. His protective hat was forced from his head and dented by the impact.

Jay Dicken, another PPG employee in the Tank Department, was accepted for Turtle Club membership several months ago. Dicken's life was saved when a wrench broke during operations to repair a burned and fouled bolt in the Tank Department.

Dicken's injury was minor, he lost no time and the hat was only torn.

During the construction period at Works 7, safety hats were a must for all employees and visitors. Today, safety hats are required for particular jobs.

Miles received a Turtle Club membership certificate, wallet card, lapel pin and white safety hat from the club. They were presented by J. W. Willis, superintendent of the PPG Warehouse and Shipping Department.

John J. Long, director of safety and plant protection, said Miles and Dicken "are to be commended with all Works 7 employees for the accident-free prevention job they are doing. It is an indication that Works 7 employees know safety is an important function and that the use of personal protective equipment is a part of the job. They are making Works 7 a safe place to work because 'safety is everybody's business.'"

The club gets its name from the turtle which is one of the earliest exponents of using a hard shell over its head for protection. Scope of the Turtle Club is international, it is non-profit, non-commercial, non-political and has no affiliation with any other organization.

The Club is sponsored by E. D. Bullard of San Francisco. A committee considered the applications of Miles and Dicken to check authenticity of claims before accepting them for membership.

Struck In Head

Logsdon told authorities that he and his companions had planned to go hunting during the past week and that his father drove them to the area yesterday morning about two hours before the shooting happened.

All three boys said they had stopped to eat some sandwiches and had placed their shotguns beside them. The weapon used by young Logsdon was a borrowed 12-gauge, double-barrel shotgun.

He told authorities that McBride finished eating first, said he was going to get a deer, and he picked up his shotgun to leave. Logsdon also picked up his

John Fadley Facing Jail Break Count

To Be Returned To County Custody After Serving City Term

John James Fadley, alias James W. Fadley, this city, will be charged with escape from the Allegany County jail later this week by the State's attorney's office.

Fadley walked away from the Allegany County lockup on Saturday, September 28, while the Sheriff's Association of Maryland was holding its state convention here in Cumberland.

At the time of his escape he was on a working detail at the jail, handling the janitor's duties.

New Term Expires

Paul M. Fletcher, state's attorney, said today Fadley was re-arrested on November 22 by two city police officers and has been confined in the City Jail since on a drunken charge.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason sentenced the man to 10 days in the City Jail, and this sentence expires today when he will be turned over to the Sheriff's office.

The Fadley story began on May 21 when he was sentenced by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick to six months and 115 days on four motor vehicle charges. The magistrate noted that the sentences were to run consecutively.

The sentences included six months confinement for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence (second offense), and 115 days in default of fines totaling $228.65.

Fadley served almost five months of the sentence when he walked away from the county jail work detail.

More Security Planned

A spokesman for the sheriff's office said it is the custom of the office to place men on the trusty list shortly after their confinement. The trusties handle janitor duties at the county jail, and some are detailed to the State Police Barracks in LaVale where they perform similar duties.

Fadley, shortly after being confined, was detailed to the State Police, but returned within a week.

The sheriff said that after he is returned today more security will be applied in his case.

Mr. Fletcher pointed out this morning that it is responsibility of the jailer to see that his prisoners are confined and act in good conduct.

In the event of an escape, Fletcher said, it is the responsibility of the jailer to apprehend the escapee, but that there is no written procedure to follow.

Control Unit To Hear Talk

The American Society for Quality Control, Cumberland Section, will meet Thursday at Fort Cumberland Hotel with dinner at 6:30 p. m. and a program at 8 p. m.

J. H. Davidson of General Electric Company, will speak on "Design of Experiments—How To Get Results." He is manager of the statistical methods department of the GE Engineering Laboratory.

Non-members are invited to the dinner and program.

Bisbing Released From County Jail

Elmer Bisbing, 33, this city, who "confessed" last week to a 1946 murder in Plymouth County, Mass., has been released from the Allegany County Jail.

Bisbing projected himself into the slaying of Miss Ruth McGuirk, 25, in the summer of 1946. Lt. John N. Sullivan of the Massachusetts State Police last Saturday questioned the man here and said he was not connected with the murder.

Dog Problems Hold Attention

Considerable discussion on the implementation of the new county dog law took up quite a bit of time at the meeting of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners this morning.

The two dog wardens, Merwin Hast, Mason Road, and Burza Hanlin, Westernport, reported they needed transportation to handle the complaints they have been receiving since being appointed.

On motion of Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson, the subject of the purchase of two pick up trucks was postponed to Friday's meeting to allow study of the subject.

The wardens met this afternoon with representatives of the County Health Department to go over the details of the dog law.

They also said they had set a meeting with the County Animal Welfare Society tonight to go over the plan for a county dog pond.

The wardens will return Friday to complete the details of getting into "business."

Equality Unit Makes Charge

BALTIMORE — The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has accused the city's Bureau of Recreation of discriminating against Negroes.

It cited a number of cases yesterday in which it said the bureau was violating the city's anti-bias law.

The commission, an agency of the Federal Employment Practices Commission, said the recreation bureau in one instance ignored a list of persons eligible for promotion and asked for a new examination. The bureau was also accused of bypassing certain Negro eligibles on a promotion list.

A number of other practices were mentioned by the EEOC as going against the law.

BLADENBURG, Md. — Police are looking for 15 cases of imported gin reported stolen from a trailer truck.

The gin, valued at $720, was missing when a cargo of 300 cases was unloaded at Beitzell & Co., a Washington wholesale distributing firm. Police said the gin and 9,000 pounds of paint had been picked up at a Baltimore pier Wednesday by a trucking firm which kept both loads in the trailer at the firm's terminal here.

None of the paint was missing when it was delivered.

Trooper J. C. Ramsburg of the West Virginia State Police at Romney said Gary Shanholzt of Fort Ashby, W. Va., fired the blast which hit Mr. Sneathen.

State Police at Romney received a call on the accident about 5:30 p. m. and they in turn notified conservation officers who will investigate.

Norman Puffenberger, father-in-law of Sneathen, accompanied him to the hospital.

Ridgeley Hoists Basketball Curtain Tonight

Hawks Play 1957 Champ Lion Quint; Cats Away

The area's college quints have had the basketball spotlight all to themselves since the beginning of the roundball season last Friday but the schoolboy cagers move onto the scene tonight.

Two of last season's powerhouses, who are in rebuilding programs this campaign, will show their wares for the first time as defending-champion West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney in the Potomac Valley Conference plays at Ridgeley and Elk Garden's Stags are at Piedmont.

The Lions enjoyed one of the best seasons in the school's annals last year by bagging their first PVC crown and finishing with only one loss in 24 games. One of the setbacks was an upset by the Hawks, 62-54, to break a nine-game winning streak.

Lose Four Starters

Coach Malcolm Norwood lost four of his starters from the championship quint with only Vernon Devericks returning. Missing are Charles Buemi, John Popovich, Billy Bob McCoy and Gene Smith. Smith and Buemi combined to account for 277 points last season, Smith registering 474 and Buemi 403.

The Hawks, finishing with 11 wins and 10 defeats in 1956-57, will also be testing players who have had little varsity experience. Coach Tom O'Connor, beginning his second season as Ridgeley mentor, has senior forward Dave Baker and center Bill Scott available.

Scott is a six-foot, five-inch junior while Baker, along with Gene Hornick and "Woody" Guthrie, the only seniors on an otherwise all-junior and sophomore squad.

Piedmont To Open

Piedmont's Lions, who had an off season last winter by finishing with a 13-9 mark after a great 22-6 record the previous year, are expected to rise back among the cage powers this year.

Coach "Huck" Myers will show his team for the first time tonight when facing Elk Garden at the Lions' gym. Six lettermen are fighting for first-string berths with scoring-leader Dick Niland leading the show. Niland had 227 points in 18 games for the Miersmen in 1956-57.

Others back are Joe Niland and Terry LaRue, seniors, along with Dan T. Twyman, Joe Taylor and Dan F. Twyman, juniors, who lettered last season.

The Stags will have a regular-season victory string going when they invade Piedmont and have five experienced cagers back to extend the string.

Coach Paul Kalbaugh's charges, after losing four of their first five games last year, finished in a rush by bagging their last 16 starts. They were beaten by Ridgeley, 59-50, in the Section 16-B tourney but come back with two triumphs to capture consolation honors. The final victory was a 56-63 decision over Piedmont to capture third-place in the tourney.

Frostburg Away

In their two season meetings last year the Stags dropped both games, 28-25 and 54-48.

The game also opens activity in the Mineral County League with the Elks and Piedmont sharing the title last year along with Keyser. Fort Ashby and Ridgeley are other teams in the setup.

Frostburg State will be shooting for its second straight triumph as the high-scoring Bobcats play their first game away from home by traveling to Waynesboro (Pa.) College.

The Cats lowered the boom on Altoona (Pa.) Center last Friday in getting the hoop season underway by a 105-43 score. They met the Penns quint only once last season and were edged, 68-67, on the Frostburg hardwoods.

College Hoop Season Opens With Surprises

By International News Service

It's too early to call them upsets, but the 1957-58 college basketball season has opened with enough surprises to show that some of the nation's top powers of last season just haven't got it anymore.

Southern Methodist, the season and ranked fifth in the final poll of International News Service, opened its campaign last night by bowing to Minnesota, 66 to 52.

Louisville, the No. 7 team in the final roll call last year, was surprised by Evansville, 92 to 82, and one of the big shockers was the defeat of Big Ten co-champion Indiana.

The Hoosiers, who were figured to give co-champ Michigan State and Ohio State a rough time of it this season with star Archie Dees and eight other lettermen back, lost their opener to Ohio U., 75 to 68.

Temple Easy Winner

Michigan State, meanwhile, trounced Butler, 74 to 55, with George Kline and Whitey Johnson scoring 16 points apiece.

Five other teams listed among the top 29 last season got off to fast starts and the fastest of all was Temple's. The Owls of Philadelphia, with All-American candidate Guy Rodgers scoring 31 points, out-classed Delaware, 83 to 38.

All-American Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, Kansas' seven-foot center, paced the second best team of 1956-57 to a 63 to 56 victory over Oklahoma State with 30 points.

The No. 1 team, North Carolina, doesn't begin the defense of its national college championship until Saturday, against Clemson.

Kentucky Nips Duke

Kentucky's perennial Southeastern Conference champions, with 11 lettermen back, debuted with a tough 78-to-74 victory over one of the few teams that beat the Wildcats last year, Duke.

Duke was leading 74-73 with two minutes remaining when guard Vernon Hatton caught fire for five points and a Kentucky triumph. Hatton was high scorer with 26 points.

Vanderbilt opened with a 91-to-53 victory over Sewanee, and Iowa State started with a 62-to-55 win over Drake.

Yankee Conference champion Connecticut kicked off the season with 84-to-55 triumph over American International, but Mid-American Conference kingpin Miami of Ohio took it on the chin from Purdue, 79 to 66.

CCNY Tops Columbia

City College of New York scored its first win over Columbia in 35 years, 76 to 70, and another reversal of form was Virginia's 73-to-69 loss to William & Mary.

Other major openers included: Illinois 100, Marquette 90; Wisconsin 83, South Dakota 56; Oklahoma 84, Arkansas 52; Rice 72, New Mexico A&M 45; South Carolina 95, Georgia 87; Nebraska 64, South Dakota State 52; Ohio U. 75, Indiana 68; Iowa State 62, Drake 55; North Carolina State 72, Atlantic Christian 44; Toledo 70, Western Ontario 38; Purdue 79, Miami (Ohio) 66; Belhany 60, Western Reserve 58; Michigan State 74, Butler 55; Northwestern 97, Western Michigan 78; William & Mary 73, Virginia 69; Minnesota 85, Southern Methodist 53; Alabama 86, Jacksonville State 31; Rice 72, New Mexico A. & M. 45; Florida State 74, Tennessee Tech 71; Idaho 64, Montana 55.

Legion Women Win

Frostburg American Legion swept three games from Stadium Inn in a Women's Shuffleboard League match last night. Ruth McGuire and Phyllis Geis headed the winners with 24 points each. Elaine Wilhelm led Stadium Inn with 16.

First intercollegiate sports event ever held in America was the Harvard-Yale boat race at Center Harbor, on New Hampshire's Lake Winnepesaukee, in 1852.

NFL Player Demands Met After Draft

PHILADELPHIA (A) — The National Football League drafted 49 standout college football players, made peace with its players and moved to bring its constitution and bylaws within the anti-trust act at a day-long meeting here yesterday.

League coaches and their staffs spent some five hours poring over scouting reports as they moved through four of the 30 rounds in the annual player draft. The balance of the draft will be held at the league's regular mid-winter meeting next month. The preliminary selections were to give NFL teams equal footing with early-drafting Canadian League clubs.

Hill Bonus Choice

Top choices in the draft were King Hill, 210-pound Rice quarterback and John Crow, Texas A&M fullback, both taken by the Chicago Cardinals. The Cardinals named Hill their bonus choice and as first selector in the regular draft grabbed the power running Crow.

Other star 1957 collegians drafted for 1958 pro football duty were such All-America candidates as end Jimmy Phillips of unbeaten and untied Auburn (Los Angeles), tackles Lou Michaels, Kentucky (Los Angeles), and Alex Karras, Iowa (Detroit), guard Bill Krisher, Oklahoma (Pittsburgh), center Dan Currie, Michigan State (Green Bay), Dick Christy, brilliant North Carolina State halfback (Green Bay), Jim Pace, Michigan back (San Francisco), Walt Kowalczyk, Michigan State back (Philadelphia), and Phil King, Vanderbilt back (New York).

Immediately after the draft the owners went into executive session and in probably the most hush-hush NFL meeting in history quickly approved recommendations by Commissioner Bert Bell that they give the Players Assn. all it wanted. Their action in approving $50 per game exhibition pay, a $5,000 minimum salary, an injury protection clause and recognition of the association as formal representative of the players confirmed an exclusive Associated Press report of a week ago.

WVU Supplies Three

As a result of his appearance before a congressional committee last fall, Bell said language in the constitution and bylaws regarding ticket prices, limitation of fees allowed college all-stars for games against pro teams, and several other items was rephrased to comply with the anti-trust law.

He disclosed that congressional influence probably would result also in a change in the method of selecting the bonus player.

For those interested in what sections of the nation contributed the most players in the player draft, the Big 10 and Southeast Conference each had 9 drafted, 8 were from the Southwest, 4 from the Southern Conference, 5 Pacific Coast Conference stars, 4 of the Atlantic Coast Conference, 3 from the Big Eight and 7 from independents.

Michigan State and West Virginia each supplied 3, while Texas A & M, Auburn, Iowa, Pittsburgh, Oklahoma and Baylor contributed 2 each.

Coast Loop Gets $900,000 Award

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (A) — The Pacific Coast League moved today to set up shop in three cities after agreeing to accept $900,000 for pulling out of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The damage settlement from the invading National League Dodgers and Giants will be split up at $150,000 apiece by six clubs — Portland, Seattle, Vancouver, San Diego, Sacramento and Hollywood.

PCL's San Francisco franchise — owned by the Giants — will be moved to Phoenix, Ariz. The Los Angeles club, property of the Dodgers, will go to Spokane. The Hollywood club is tentatively scheduled for Salt Lake City.

Trainer Moody Jolley, 48, says 1957 was his best year in racing. He handled Nadir, winner of the Garden State Stakes and Bayou, a filly who won four stakes races during the year.

Dispatchers Grab Railway Margin

Dispatchers took over first place in the Western Maryland Railway General Office Mixed Bowling League by shutting out Reifers, 3-0, as Signals were falling out of the pacing-spot deadlock in being held to a 2-1 victory over Anglebros.

Streamliners also picked up ground in sweeping Hoppers, 3-0, while Frogs took the odd game from Cross Ties to vacate the cellar.

Team scoring leaders were Jack Barmoy, 167-432, and Hilda Lewis, 119-301. Dispatchers: Cedric Miller, 171-421, and Bea Bloss, 107-272. Reifers: Ray Long, 174-436, and Gladys Head, 83-227. Signals: Charles Diehl, 149-371, and Rose Marie Friend, 140-335. Anglebros: Les Brotemarkle, 154-399, and Jean Kramp, 107-304. Streamliners: Marvin Clark, 147-386, and Harriet Alexander, 123-303. Hoppers: Jack Shriver, 138-370, and Wilda Parsons, 94-249. Frogs: Henry Rank, 165-392, and Rebecca Brotemarkle, 95-265. Cross Ties.

Two Middies Earn Places On All-East

By The Associated Press

Two Navy players who were important factors in giving the Midshipmen a 14-0 victory over Army last Saturday — a victory which earned Navy the Lambert Trophy and an invitation to the Cotton Bowl — head the 1957 Associated Press All-East Football Team.

Bob Reifsnider, the agile 235-pound tackle who was tabbed by Army Coach Earl Blaik as the man who made the difference between victory and defeat, and Tom Forrestal, an imaginative and able quarterback, were selected for the first team.

Two other Navy players, Ned Oldham, who scored all the points for Navy against Army, and Pete Jakanovich, a tall, pass-catching end, were second team selections.

Only Navy voted the eastern champion by the Lambert Trophy Committee, and Army, the runner-up, placed two men on the first All-East Team. The others came from Penn State, Pittsburgh, Boston College and Rutgers among the independent institutions and from Yale, Dartmouth and Princeton of the Ivy League.

Army's representatives were sophomore halfback Bob Anderson and Capt. Jim Kernan at center.

The All-East Team was picked with the co-operation of a regional selection board of sports writers and broadcasters, whose members observed all the major teams and many of the top minor colleges among the more than 70 football-playing schools in the east.

The first team was made up of Les Walters, Penn State, and Mike Cavallion, Yale, ends; Reifsnider and Jim Kernan at center; Tom Forrestal, Rutgers, and John Sapoch, Princeton, backs.

West Virginia Opens Tonight Against VMI

By The Associated Press
West Virginia's Southern Conference basketball champions begin finding out tonight what life is like without All-America Rod Hundley. But for the present at least, they aren't expected to notice the difference.

The Mountaineers' foe in their season opener at Morgantown is Virginia Military Institute, bottom team on the conference ladder last winter.

Favored Again
Even minus Hundley, the Mountaineers are the favorites to top the conference again and the way they handle VMI tonight could be the tipoff on just how capable they'll be.

Tonight's four-game program for conference teams also sends Washington & Lee, West Virginia's victim in the finals of the conference's championship tournament last March, into action for the first time. The Generals, with new Coach Louis (Weenie) Miller at the helm, collide with non-conference Bridgewater at Staunton, Va.

Tonight's other games find Davidson at Georgia Tech and Richmond's Spiders entertaining the Phillips Oilers, National A A U champs.

Five Make Debuts
Five conference clubs made their debuts last night, two scoring impressive victories and three coming home on the short end of the score.

William & Mary's Indians, in their bow under Coach Bill Chambers, nipped favored Virginia 73-69, with freshman Jeff Cohen who stands 6-7 dominating the backboards and contributing 17 points to the W&M assault.

The Citadel whipped Newberry 60-46, Davidson fell before Wake Forest 68-61. Richmond played the first of its two exhibitions with the Phillips Oilers and went down 93-76. Tennessee ruined Furman's debut, beating the Paladins 84-61.

Orioles Draft Coast Player

COLORADO SPRINGS, Md. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles have drafted outfielder Burt Hamric who hit .291 last year for Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League.

The Orioles paid the Los Angeles Dodger organization $15,000 for Hamric at the major league draft session here yesterday. The 29-year-old minor league veteran batted in 56 runs last year and hit 19 homers.

Hamric, bats left-handed and throws right. Baltimore Manager Paul Richards said he was drawn to Hamric partly because he has batted better than .290 in three consecutive seasons of triple-A play.

Richards said he selected Hamric "because he is fast, has some power, is a pretty good outfielder and has always had a consistently good minor league record."

Hamric started out in the Dodger organization at Cambridge, Md. in 1949.

Oldham 'Player of Week' As Star In Navy Triumph

By TONY GALLI
NEW YORK—(INS)—Navy's last player of the week award today for sinking Army virtually single-handedly in the rain and the mud at Philadelphia.

In the final weekly poll of International News Service's panel of experts, Oldham joined such player-of-the-week stars this season as teammates Tom Forrestal and Ray Welborn, Lou Michaels of Kentucky, Bob White of Ohio State, Randy Duncan of Iowa, Bob Stransky of Colorado, James Bakhtiar of Virginia, Jim Taylor of LSU, Dick Larson of Minnesota and Dick Donelli of Columbus.

The panel also gave a final salute to these other "best of the week" performances:

Game of the Week—Navy's 14-0 victory over Army.

Coach of the Week—Darrell Royal, Texas.

Play of the Week—Kent Lovelace's block of a 17-yard field goal attempt which saved bowl-bound Mississippi.

Here's the evidence considered by the panel of Shrine East-West game scouts Bernie Bierman, Andy Kerr and Francis J. Powers: INS columnist Bob Conzidine, and INS sports editor John Barrington.

Player of the Week
As the team's captain and one of seven seniors in the Navy starting lineup, Oldham had vowed he wasn't going to end his career at Annapolis without a large share in a victory over Army.

Opportunity knocked Saturday and the 175-pound speedster from Cuyahoga Falls, O., answered by scoring all of Navy's points. Oldham scored both touchdowns with runs of seven and 44 yards and kicked both conversions. He also set up a third touchdown in the final period by intercepting the final period by intercepting the pass on his own 45 and threading his way back to the Cadet 34.

THE END OF A PERFECT SEASON—The football season came to an official end for Fort Hill High's perennial champions with a victory assembly yesterday at the school. The coaches and co-captains all have a hand on the ball that was used on Thanksgiving Day as the Sentinels routed Allegany, 28-6, to finish a ten-game season undefeated and untied. With the win went the city and Cumberland Valley Athletic League titles. Left to right in the photo are assistant coach Wayne Boor, end Fred Ringler, halfback Dalton Hillegas, scoring star of the final game, and coach Bill Hahn.

French Giant Passes First Offense Test

SPOKANE (AP)—Jean Claude Lefebvre, the 7-foot 3 1/4-inch French basketball player, passed his first American test last night with high grades on offense, barely passing marks on defense and rebounds.

The 20-year-old freshman scored 13 points in a 71-37 Gonzaga University rout of the College of Idaho and showed great promise with a deft touch on a little hook shot near the basket.

But on defense and rebounds, Lefebvre was slow, seldom used his tremendous size to good advantage, appeared tired and loped down the floor as if his feet hurt.

They probably did. He was outfitted with a specially-built pair of size 19A shoes last week but they were too snug. He had been practicing with a pair of 17s with the toes cut out.

Coach Babe Brown, his badly beaten Coyotes and the crowd of some 4,000 were more impressed with Lefebvre than Jean was.

"For me I think my game was pretty good because it is first game, but I think the crowd was disappointed, they expect more scores from me," he said. Veteran Bob Turner led Gonzaga scoring with 15 points.

Lefebvre hit on six of nine shots in the 25 minutes he played and scored five of Gonzaga's first seven points. He had nine points in the first half.

Game of the Week

A crowd of 100,000 huddled in the cold rain to watch the 56th edition of football's most storied classic, The stakes were the Lambert Trophy symbolic of Eastern grid supremacy, and a Cotton Bowl bid for Navy if victorious. The Midshipmen, behind the signal-calling of All-American Tom Forrestal and the hard running of Oldham, blanked Army, 14 to 0. The Navy defense, second only to Auburn's, limited the country's best rushing offense to just 83 yards and the nation's leading scorer, All-American Bob Anderson, to a mere 15 yards in 11 carries.

Coach of the Week
Under Royal's direction, Texas rose from football's scrap heap and slashed into second place in the Southwest Conference race. The Longhorns ruined Texas A&M's title ambitions Thanksgiving Day with a 9-to-7 victory that also propelled them into a Sugar Bowl meeting with Mississippi.

Play of the Week
Mississippi, an 18-point favorite to ring up its ninth win in ten tries, had to come from behind to tie the Mississippi State, 7-7. Saturday, State's Kelly Cook tried a field goal from the 34 in the third period but it was blocked. Later, with only minutes left, Cook attempted another field goal—this time from the 17—but the Rebels' Lovelace smashed through the line to block the kick and prevent the day's biggest upset.

Auburn Voted National Title In Final AP Poll

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Unbeaten, untied Auburn, a latecomer among college football powers, ruled as the national champion today with a fat bulge over Ohio State and Michigan State in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

Auburn will be the first national champion to receive the Associated Press Trophy, put into competition this season as a successor to the Father Hugh O'Donnell Memorial trophy that was retired by Oklahoma last fall.

The Tigers, only once before ranked among the final top 10, pulled in 210 first-place votes and an overpowering total of 3,123 points in the balloting by 360 sports writers and broadcasters.

Barred From Bowl
Auburn drew the highest number of first-place votes collected since Oklahoma pulled in a record 218 in the final 1953 poll. The Sooners finished fourth this season.

Auburn, the Southeastern Conference champion, is barred from bowl play by NCAA action.

The Tigers (10-0) made the top in the next-to-last weekly poll of the season, taking over from Ohio State—which in turn had replaced Michigan State.

Ohio State and Michigan State, both with 8-1 records, finished some 500 points behind Auburn in voting based on 10 points for first, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc. The Buckeyes, Big Ten champions and Rose Bowl representatives, collected 71 first-place votes and 2,646 points.

Michigan State had 30 first-place votes and 2,550 points, Oklahoma (9-1) picked up 22 first-place votes and 2,182 points.

The rest of the top 10 were Navy, Iowa, Mississippi, Rice, Texas A&M and Notre Dame.

Arizona State (10-0) the only other major unbeaten, untied team at season's close, finished 12th.

Hayes Fells Bucks No. 1
While Coach Shug Jordan told yelling, dancing students, who staged rip-roaring celebration at news of the championship, that "as far as I'm concerned Auburn has been No. 1 all the year," Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes said the same of his Buckeyes.

Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty, making it understood he would vote for his Spartans against any team in the country, acknowledged that both Auburn and Ohio State "proved their right to great recognition."

"If we couldn't be higher, there certainly are two great teams up there. I naturally lean toward Ohio State," Daugherty added.

Graham To Coach College All-Stars

CHICAGO (AP)—Otto Graham, former Cleveland Brown star and one of the greatest football players in Northwestern University history, will direct the College All-Stars against the professional champions Aug. 15 at Soldier Field.

Graham succeeds Curly Lambeau who has been at the All-Star helm the past three seasons.

Colts' Draft Choice Runs 100 In 9.5

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Leonard Lyles, a gridiron gazelle from Louisville, is the Baltimore Colts top draft choice.

The speedy Louisville University halfback ran the 100-yard dash in 9.5 seconds in high school. As a collegian halfback this season, he has averaged 14 yards a carry and scored more than 100 points.

The Colts, drafting far down the line yesterday because of their first place standing in the Western Division of the National Football League, also chose halfback Bob Stransky of Colorado, Joe Nicely, guard from West Virginia, and Les Walters, Penn State end.

Widows Spread Saucer Margin

League-leading Black Widows increased its lead over second-place Thunderbolts as the pacemakers won two games from Piper Cubs while the runnerup team was dropping a pair to Jets in Flying Saucer Bowling League action.

Flying Forts copped two victories from Mustangs in the circuit's other match.

Leaders were Margaret Ardinger, 455, Jets; Paul Hockman, 409, Thunderbolts; Sally Crabtree, 435, Flying Forts; Bill Hunt, 437, Mustangs; Bill Manthey, 430, Black Widows; and Jeanette Breighner, 413, Piper Cubs.

Trio Teams Cop 2 To 1 Dux Tilts

Credits, Losses, and Profits all emerged victorious over Expenses, Debts, and Assets in that order by 2-1 scores in South End Businessmen's Bowling League games.

High scoring men and women bowlers were Ina Higson, 137-355, Bill Garret, 154, Doc Wright, 385, Credits; Grace Garlitz, 125-330, Charlie Garlitz, 154-454, Expenses; Myrt Pullin, 174-369, Don Pullin, 134-349, Debts; Shirley McDonald, 150-340, John Angelletta, 170-440, Losses; Mary Hartley, 194-491, Arnold Hartley, 164-399, Profits; Barbara Stotler, 105-286, Charlie McDonald, 166-428, Assets.

LaSalle Pinnen Break Deadlock

LaSalle broke the tie for first place and moved into a three-game lead in the Bi-State Inter-Scholastic Bowling League by scoring a shutout victory over Allegany yesterday on the Savoy pinways. Prior to the match, the Explorers and Campers were knotted for the top rung.

Leading the Explorers to victory was Tim Felten who knocked over 332 sticks in the set, his top game being a 229. Stein led Allegany with 128-341. LaSalle's total for the three games was 2,330 sticks; Allegany had 1,920.

Fort Hill moved within a game of second place by sweeping three from Ridgeley at the Capital.

Mike Holcomb led Fort Hill with a set of 411 and Melvin Boone's 158 was high game. Gary Nield's 249 was best for Ridgeley.

Team totals were: Fort Hill 2,081, Ridgeley, 1,571.

Dayton Boasts Speed But No Basket Height

DAYTON (AP)—Coach Tom Blackburn, Dayton's basketball coach, has what he calls a "speed unit." It consists of Arlen Beckhorn and Dick Bogenriefe up front, Jack McCarthy at center and Paul Shafer and Don Lane at guard.

"The only drawback to this quintet," says Blackburn, "is that the group needs a big man. McCarthy is the tallest at 6-foot-6."

Hot-Shooting Potomac Five Wins Opener

Potomac State's Catamounts were held to a 39-31 halftime score but broke loose with a rash of buckets in the second half to hand Altoona (Pa.) Center a 92-76 setback last night at Keyser.

It was Potomac's opening basketball game of the season and the second straight loss for the Pennsylvanians at the hands of a district college. Last week they were shellacked by Frostburg State Teachers.

In making their debut, "Horse" Lough's Catamounts made 37 field goals in 84 attempts for a scorching 44.0 shooting percentage from the floor. At the foul line, Potomac made 18 of 32.

The Pennsylvanians connected for 30 field goals in 30 attempts and meshed 16 of 23 free tosses.

Bob Bourdeau sparked the Potomac State offensive with 20 points. Tom Allen contributed 16 tallies. George Elcher garnered 14 and Fred Nestor and Dave Burks had ten each. Don Wagner paced the Blair Countians with 16 points while Dale Hoover dumped in 13 and Gene Critzer eleven.

Gene Hannah, Potomac State forward, was injured when he ran into a scorers' table and was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital for observation.

Potomac State's next engagement is with Davis and Elkins College tomorrow, 8 p. m., at Keyser.

Jewel's Reward Top Colt Of '57

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS)—Jewel's Reward, whose Pimlico Futurity victory gave him an all-time record for earnings by a juvenile, was named champion two-year-old colt of 1957 today by the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham's home-bred colt netted $115,347 for his romp in the Pimlico, bringing his season's total to an unprecedented $349,642 for five victories, two seconds and one third in 12 starts.

Jewel's Reward also won the Tremont at Belmont Park, the Washington Park Futurity and the Cowdin and Champagne at Belmont. Handicapped by a bruised heel, he lost to Nadir in the Garden State.

The champion's sire, Jet Jewel, never won a race and his dam, Belle Jeep, never even raced, enabling Mrs. Graham to obtain Jewel's Reward for the low bid of $3,500 at the annual auction sales of yearling thoroughbreds.

Patterson May Go To England

NEW YORK (AP)—Cagey Gus D'Amato, manager of heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, has thrown the gate open to a flood of speculation with the announcement that Patterson may soon defend his title in England.

D'Amato said last night that there is a "distinct possibility" that Patterson will make his title defense in England and "sooner than people think."

D'Amato, however, would not name the probable opponent nor the likely date for the championship bout.

Why Wait For 'The Stilt'? Jimmy Smith Due In 1958

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK—(NEA)—The college basketball season is on us. For the remainder of the winter you'll read of big names at this school or that, but to the professionals the whole thing is academic.

Jimmy Smith is their man, so there will be considerable compensation in finishing dead last in the National Basketball Association, thereby getting the first draft pick. Right now it would appear that Minneapolis will land Smith of little and new Steubenville, O., College. The coaches tell you that the Lakers could use him right now.

The fabulous Wilt Chamberlain and Kansas will run over St. Joseph's at Philadelphia's Postrum, Dec. 14, and the joint is sold out. Wilt the Stilt's first appearance in the East since he was a schoolboy has NBA owners licking their chops just thinking about the business they'll do when the 7-1 Jayhawk joins the list of stars as a Philadelphia Warrior two years hence.

Compared With Russell
Coaches, players and fans already are comparing Chamberlain with 6-9 1/2; Bill Russell of the Celtics. Russell furnished considerable additional evidence that consistent rebound men are 60 per cent of basketball.

Boston had the playmakers and shooters—Bob Cousy, Bill Sharman and Easy Ed Macauley—for several campaigns, but the Celtics didn't start winning their first championship until Russell returned from the Olympic Games early last December. The University of San Francisco alumnus established a new rebound record against Philadelphia the other night with 49.

While pro basketball addicts await the night that the renowned Chamberlain tackles Big Bill Russell, pro coaches and scouts tell you that the league will see a lad little less remarkable than Wilt the Stilt next season in the now obscure and 6-6 and 230-pound Jimmy Smith, who in their book is the most formidable college senior in the country.

Played Wilt Even
Coached by the old Duquesne maestro, Chick Davies, at Homestead, Pa., High, Smith played Chamberlain even shooting and rebounding in the Catskill Mountains hotel summer league.

Smith, who has played all year round since his freshman year in high school, outrebounced Maurice Stokes of the Cincinnati Royals in workouts in Pittsburgh, where he has also excelled in scrimmages with the professionals. Dick Ricketts, Jack Twyman, Ed Fleming, St. Green and Chuck Cooper, the latter now touring with Goose Tatum's Harlem Stars. Stokes led the NBA in rebounds last season and is second to Russell this. Smith led all college players last season with an average of 25.

"Smithy is a better rebounder than Stokes' right now," says Hank Kuzma, the Steubenville coach, "and will do OK as a pro with his shooting ability. I've seen the best rebounders since 1947, and filled in for a pretty good board man in Charley Cooper when we played together for Duquesne. With all respect for Stokes and Cooper, I must vote for Smithy as the best 6-6 rebounder I've ever seen."

Basketball players keep getting bigger and better.

Supporters Of Jai Alai Bare Plans

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Backers of jai alai scheduled a film and question session for this afternoon to explain the finer things about the sport, but several opponents don't expect to be on hand.

Four leaders of the proposed pari-mutuel gambling game in Anne Arundel County said yesterday other business would prevent them from attending the meeting at Carvel Hall Hotel.

They included William R. Woodfield, co-chairman with the Rev. Charles F. Kirkley of a citizens protest committee; the Rev. Mr. Kirkley; State Sen. Louis N. Phipps, who plans to introduce a bill in the Legislature to ban the sport; and Sheriff Joseph W. Alton, who says jai alai would create a tough policing problem.

The Democratic Board of County Commissioners already has approved granting a license to Audiotronics Inc., the firm which wants to build a fronton (arena) near Ft. Meade. A group of opponents has filed a court suit to try to stop it.

Sheriff Alton aimed a fresh attack at backers of the sport yesterday. He said they had offered "lame excuses" of extra revenue for the county, but that much of this 5 per cent cut would go toward policing "ex-convicts, dope peddlers, pickpockets, swindlers and prostitutes."

Jai alai is a sport resembling handball, played with baskets. It is popular in Mexico and there is a pari-mutuel betting arena in Florida.

Payoff On 'Suspicion' Pallid, Obvious; 'Voice Of Firestone' Starts 30th Year

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Jack Paar snooted $40,000 for four weeks at the Las Vegas Sahara . . .

Hitch's "Suspicion" last night had a pallid and obvious payoff after the script stretched endlessly to encompass the hour . . .

"What's It For" may have that query answered Jan. 4 when it's scheduled to sink in its channels . . .

Carol Haney makes her showbiz return January 29 on "The Big Record," doing her "Steam Heat" number from "Pajama Game"; then she'll star with Patrice Munsel early in February.

The Voice of Firestone started its 30th year last night with an absolutely lovely earful of cheerful, dignified sound, not a rock-roll in earshot . . .

Lawrence Welk and the Lennon sisters last night were first on TV to wish us a Merry Christmas; a little too early . . .

Jerry Lester, once the supreme star of the NBC-TV midnight air, did one of the commercials in that opus last night . . .

Colorado Changes Names Of Colleges

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado Legislature changed the names of two colleges in the state this year.

Colorado A&M College at Fort Collins became Colorado State University and Colorado State College of Education at Greeley was shortened to Colorado State College.

Stealer's Choice

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP) — A thief who ransacked a supply of canned goods, fruits and vegetables gathered by a local church for a charity offering had his own peculiar modus operandi: He stole only commercial canned goods, shunning home canned items.

After meeting on the premises and hearing those persons who would be affected by the closing of said street, the Commissioners present the following:

That after due consideration of the nature and extent of the closing of the aforementioned street mentioned in the Ordinance, the undersigned are of the opinion that no benefits should be

Tallest Trees

Forests of the state of Victoria, Australia, produce the tallest trees to be found on that continent: the mountain ash, which may reach a height of 300 feet.

In President Andrew Jackson's term the only U.S. Federal offices were State, Treasury, War, Navy, Justice and the Post Office.

The Pay Off

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP)—Betty Bland Barnette of Longwood College wanted to attend the Tobacco Festival at Richmond. Associate Dean M. H. Bittinger said she would be charged with cutting classes—that is unless she were named festival Queen, in which event he would forgive the cuts and buy her a lunch. Betty won, and Dr. Bittinger made good too.

Pay Increase Won't Affect Worker Total

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Lankford (D-Md.) says he has been assured there will be no civilian personnel cuts as a result of a pay increase at the Naval Academy in Annapolis.

Lankford said yesterday rumors of a reduction in civilian personnel caused him to write the Department of the Navy concerning the cuts.

The Democratic congressman said he was assured by Rear Adm. K. Craig, acting chief of naval personnel, that a review of the academy's financial situation indicated a greater number of employees would be able to be supported after the wage increase "than the superintendent had originally estimated."

Lankford quoted Adm. Craig as writing:

"Every effort will be made to effect any required reduction in employment at the Naval Academy incident to the wage increase referred to in your inquiry through normal personnel attrition."

Three Alarms Ruin Dinner For Firemen

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—When members of the Hope Hose Co. held their annual turkey dinner everything got cold but the engines on their fire trucks.

Five minutes after the meal was served an alarm sent the members out to a grass fire. They'd scarcely settled down to eat again when a second alarm chased them out to a flue fire. When another alarm called them out again in the midst of their business meeting they put out the fire and adjourned for the night.

ABL Reports On Plant Personnel Plan

During the past year and a half 47 employees of the Hercules Powder Company were transferred from six states to positions at the Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory here.

These were technical men whose skills are needed in the expansion of activity in ballistics research program in the field of rocket propulsion, which is the business of ABL, operated by Hercules for the Navy Bureau of Ordnance.

The move of personnel started slowly in May 1956. A few were oriented into new jobs and families adjusted to new homes smoothly on an individual basis.

These were not the usual plant-to-plant moves but involved a change to activities differing from anything the men had been doing at their previous locations. When the first group arrived, ABL was ready with a carefully planned indoctrination course of 80 hours of conference-type lectures and field trips. A dozen at a time, the men were given background information in the field of rocketry and the function and role of ABL.

Personnel problems were recognized, as Hercules employees coming to ABL were family men, most of whom had been established in their previous locations. (Continued on Page 18)
